A NATIVE OF ADAMS COUNTY

ONE OF THE LEADING BUSINESS MEN OF HANOVER.

John Henry Brough Passes Away in His 64th Year Following a Short Illness.

John Henry Brough, a prominent business man and banker, of Hanover, died at his home last Friday in his 64th year. He was a native of Adams county, son of the late Andrew and Caroline Arnold Brough. He was born on the family homestead in Reading township, January 21, 1855. His early life was spent on the home farm near East Berlin. In 1878 he went to Hanover, taking the position of bookkeeper in the Clothing Store of Grove & Carver and with their successors, Carver & Little. He held this position for 20 years, when in 1898 he went into the insurance business. In 1902 he was elected manager of the Water Company of Hanover and served as manager in that company as reorganized and developed. It was his sound business judgment and vision that developed and placed that company where it is to-day. His financial ability was early recognized and he has been a director of the First National Bank of Hanover for years. He was one of the influential members of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, serving as trustee and treasurer and always active in the progressive work of that church. He took an active interest in the development of Hanover, being identified with every progressive movement, and giving his good judgment and keen insight into business methods to every undertaking in which he was interested. He was an indefatigable worker and held in the highest esteem by those with whom he was associated. He possessed a cheerful disposition with a fund of humor and was an agreeable associate. His death was a shock to his community and many friends. He had suffered from arterio-sclerosis and dilation of the heart and was treated at the sanitarium at Clifton Springs, New York, but failed to show any improvement. He was met at Abbottstown a few weeks ago with his family and was the happy, uncomplaining man he had always been, looking at life optimistically. Mr. Brough was married November 8th, 1880, to Miss Ida Young, of Hanover, who survives with three children, Rev. Chas. F. Steck, D.D., of Washington, D. C.; Rev. A. R. Steck, D.D., of Carlisle; and Mrs. Lewars, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Susan M. Steck, widow of Rev. Daniel Steck, for many years pastor of St. James Lutheran Church of this place, died on Tuesday at the home of her son, Rev. C. F. Steck, D.D., of Washington, D. C. She had reached the remarkable age of 95 years, enjoying every faculty. Mrs. Steck was a native of Milton, Pa., her maiden name being Miss Susan M. Edwards, and possessed the happy faculty of looking on the bright side of things, at once an inspiration and a blessing. The funeral was held in Washington on Thursday and body was taken to Gettysburg and interment made in the Evergreen Cemetery on Friday. She is survived by three children, Rev. Chas. F. Steck, D.D., of Washington, D. C.; Rev. A. R. Steck, D.D., of Carlisle; and Mrs. Lewars, of Philadelphia.

George Slothrop, of Abbottstown, an enlisted man in the United States Navy, has been drowned. Particulars concerning his death, however, have not as yet been announced by the U. S. officials. Word of his death was sent his mother, Mrs. Charles Sowers, of Abbottstown, last Saturday. The message stated that he met death by drowning but, no particulars were given as to how the young man happened to drown. The place of his fatal accident was also not given. Slothrop enlisted in the Navy at Philadelphia early last fall. He was about 20 years old.

Augustus Long died at his home in Littlestown on Monday aged 93 years, 6 months and 2 days. For a number of years he was engaged in the carriage manufacturing business, being identified with the Blocher establishment at Littlestown. He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Mary Rider and he leaves three daughters and a son by this marriage—Mrs. Rose Leach of Baltimore; Mrs. George Bumbaugh, of Hagerstown; Mrs. Curtis Harner and William Long, of Littlestown. He also leaves his second wife who was Miss Mary Thompson, and these sons and daughters by the second marriage—Charles Long, Harry Long, Earl Long, and Roger Long, all of Littlestown; Mrs. William Dutcher of Hanover; Mrs. Norman Warner and Mrs. Edward Morris, of York; Mrs. Harry Pair, of McSherrystown. The funeral was on Thursday from St. Aloysius Church, services by Rev. Fr. O'Calaghan. Interment in Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Littlestown.

James A. Lawrence, of Irishstown, died on Wednesday aged 80 years, 8 months and 25 days. He was a veteran of the Civil War, having served as a Sergeant of Company H, 16th Regiment, under Capt. William H. Gordner. He was a member of Major Jenkins Post No. 99, G. A. R., of Hanover. He leaves a widow and the following children: Eugene W., of Irishstown; Henry A., of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Mrs. Edw. Hemler, of McSherrystown; Mrs. Peter Long, of New Oxford; Miss Isabelle Lawrence, of home; Rev. Jerome Lawrence, of St. Bernard's College, Coleman, Ala.; Frank J., of Irishstown; Miss Emma Lawrence, of Birmingham, Ala.; one brother, Geo. W. Lawrence, and three sisters, Mrs. Kate Staub, Mrs. Sallie Overbaugh and Mrs. Anna Leonard, also survive.

Frank L. Brendel, superintendent of Eastern Division, Western Maryland Railway, died at Union Protestant Infirmary in Baltimore, Thursday night. He was 48 years old and lived at Hagerstown. He was well known to a number of Gettysburg people, especially the railroaders. Recently he fell in the bathroom at his home fracturing his hip, and was taken to the hospital a week ago. Prior to the accident he had been at the hospital twice, taking treatment for other ailments. He was in the railroad business for many years. Surviving are his widow, formerly of Baltimore, and one child.

Miss Mary A. C. Deardorff died on Friday at the home of her nephew, Harry Eckenrode, in Butler township, near Bigerville. She had resided at the Eckenrode home for the past twenty-two years. Death was caused by chronic nephritis. Miss Deardorff was a daughter of the late George and Susanna Deardorff. She was aged 74 years, 3 months and 10 days. She leaves two brothers, Geo. Deardorff, of New Oxford; and John Deardorff, of Butler township. She had a wide circle of friends. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at home of Harry Eckenrode. Services and interment at Bender's Church by Rev. J. M. Crowell.

Helen Pearl Tawney, the 5-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Tawney, died Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Tawney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hombach, McSherrystown, from pneumonia. Her father, John H. Tawney, is a member of the 35th Machine Gun Battalion, now in France. Funeral services were held in St. Mary's Catholic Church Sunday by Dr. L. Aug. Reudert, interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Grace Pierson Sullivan, daughter of Mrs. Roy Sullivan, of Berwick township, Adams county, died Thursday of last week. For the past five years she was in ill health but was only confined to her bed for a week. She was one of two children of Mrs. Sullivan by her first marriage. Surviving are her mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sullivan; one brother, Richard Pierson, and three half-sisters, Misses Margaret, Hilda, and Carrie Sullivan. The funeral was on Saturday, July 20, interment in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Hanover.

Joseph Mark Poist, infant son of Mrs. Emma and the late Joseph M. Poist, died at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. A. Smith, New Oxford, on Tuesday of last week from pneumonia aged 3 months and 15 days. It will be remembered that the father of the child met a fatal accident in the Ling mill, near New Oxford last summer. Surviving are the mother and two little brothers. The funeral took place last Thursday interment being made in the Catholic Cemetery, the Rev. Fr. Shanahan officiating.

Mrs. Susan M. Steck, widow of Rev. Daniel Steck, for many years pastor of St. James Lutheran Church of this place, died on Tuesday at the home of her son, Rev. C. F. Steck, D.D., of Washington, D. C. She had reached the remarkable age of 95 years, enjoying every faculty. Mrs. Steck was a native of Milton, Pa., her maiden name being Miss Susan M. GETTYSBURG COLLEGE ON TOP

SIX OF ITS COURSES HAVE GOVERNMENT APPROVAL.

So That Students Can Complete Courses for Active Government Service.

Gettysburg College has been placed in a most advantageous position by recent order of the War Department. The creation of the scientific courses shows the great wisdom of Dr. Wm. A. Granville and the Board of Trustees. The needs of the Government from these scientific courses require that students taking the same remain at school, and complete the courses. This will undoubtedly have the effect to increase the roll of students and also to fill these special courses for on completion of the same the students will be ready for active government service.

On account of the great need of technically trained men the United States Government desires that students pursuing certain technical courses shall, as a patriotic duty, remain in college until they graduate. In order to make this possible for those within the draft age the War Department has issued certain regulations which apply to students in approved technical schools. As Gettysburg College is on the War Department's list of approved technical schools these regulations will apply here to students enrolled in the following courses:

Group IV. Chemistry.

Group IV. Physics.

Group VII. Civil Engineering.

Group VIII. Municipal (Sanitary) Engineering.

Group IX. Mechanical Engineering.

Group X. Electrical Engineering.

Either one of the two following plans may be followed:

(a) The student may enroll in the Engineer Enlisted Reserve Corps. If he maintains a scholastic standing which may be regarded fairly as deserving a place among the first third of those who have graduated from this institution during the past ten years he will be placed on the "inactive list" of the Engineer Enlisted Reserve Corps, and he will be allowed to complete his course in this institution.

(b) Any student between the ages of 18 and 21 years may enroll in the Naval Reserve Force. Those enrolled will not be called to active duty until they have graduated. A student who is already in the draft must present a letter from his local board giving him permission to enroll, before he can be accepted. No particular scholarship rating is required.

The above ruling by the War Department is of particular interest to Gettysburg College because it is the only Lutheran College in America which is on the War Department's list of approved technical schools and therefore the only one whose students can avail themselves of the above privileges.

James Reed Ewing, Ph.D., of Hebron, Ohio, has been elected professor of Economics and Political Science in Gettysburg College to succeed Dr. J. A. Ashworth, resigned. Dr. Ewing received his A.B. from Ohio Wesleyan University and his Ph. D. from Johns Hopkins University, majoring in Economics and Political Science and having History as a minor.

Since then he has spent one year in graduate work in Chicago University and one year in study and travel abroad. For four years he was as an Associate with Dr. Adams, head of the Department of History and Political Science at Johns Hopkins, in research work in the Library of Congress, Washington, D. C., in Early American Explorations. For four years Dr. Ewing was connected with the American University of Trade and Commerce founded by John Wanamaker. He comes to Gettysburg from McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill., where he was head of the Department of Social Sciences.

Gettysburg College has just issued from Compiler Print Plant the Alumni Directory of the Penna. College Bulletin. It is the largest number ever issued, containing 258 pages. This Directory has been issued every five years. The present issue was issued on Wednesday aged 80 years, 8 months and 25 days. He was a veteran of the Civil War, having served as a Sergeant of Company H, 16th Regiment, under Capt. William H. Gordner. He was a member of Major Jenkins Post No. 99, G. A. R., of Hanover. He leaves a widow and the following children: Eugene W., of Irishstown; Henry A., of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Mrs. Edw. Hemler, of McSherrystown; Mrs. Peter Long, of New Oxford; Miss Isabelle Lawrence, of home; Rev. Jerome Lawrence, of St. Bernard's College, Coleman, Ala.; Frank J., of Irishstown; Miss Emma Lawrence, of Birmingham, Ala.; one brother, Geo. W. Lawrence, and three sisters, Mrs. Kate Staub, Mrs. Sallie Overbaugh and Mrs. Anna Leonard, also survive.

Perhaps that part of the Directory devoted to the Honor Roll of Gettysburg College men who are in the Army and Navy will be most interesting and highly cherished by all alumni. Think of 350 on the Honor Roll from a possible 1500 living graduates, a percentage of 21, surely a remarkable record.

Miss Miriam Taylor has returned to her home on West Middle St. after spending some time with friends at Frederick.

Mrs. G. E. Jacobs of Johnstown, spent several days this week at the home of Miss Hattie Johns, West Middle street.

No Presbyterian Reunion This Year.

D. R. Rose, secretary of the Pen-Mar Presbyterian Reunion Association, recently made public the following announcement: "Owing to the war conditions and the inability of the Cumberland Valley Railroad to operate trains, the Executive Committee of the Pen-Mar Presbyterian Association has deemed it wise not to hold a reunion this year."

OPERA BOUFFE IN CAMP

SANDY, A SUPPOSED SCOTCHMAN ENTERS AND EXITS.

Rev. Will Whalen Tells of the Part Played by the "Liberty Blondes."

Sandy McGregor, posing as a Scotchman with bare knees, kilts and a flourishing scarf, was in the guard house in Camp Colt with a heavy guard over him for several days. It was the same Sandy who industriously proclaimed himself as "another Harry Lauder." Could he sing? Not on your life; and the attempt might well have been worth the guard house. One day the kilts were missing and the shock of the clothed knees caused the inquiry, "Why?" to be answered, "Camouflage." Sandy industriously invited himself to speak to two of the churches of the town—and he spoke. Could he speak? Not on your grammar, and the attempt might have been well worth guard house duty. What was he here for, and what was he doing? What was he in the guard house for? And if he was there for? why was he discharged Tuesday and allowed to take train for his home town Pittsburgh? It all sounds like opera-bouffe of the Gilbert and Sullivan type. Remember the "Hush," "Tis the cat," in Pinefore.

Then the talk about town of the woman in a tent in camp—sounds like more opera-bouffe, and where was the inspector of tents and contents of that portion of the camp, or where was the woman when the inspector arrived at that tent?

Then four hundred Camp Colt boys took train to get the high Masonic degree for $400 a head, and after reaching Harrisburg learned that degree was to come from a fake lodge. And, like the King of France with his twice ten thousand men, marched up the hill and marched down again, so the four hundred were counted during one day. These are but two of the nine thronged ways to Gettysburg, and many days would find 2000 to 3000 going to and from Gettysburg.

Let the borough authorities take up this matter with the State Highway Department and thrash it through an understanding on a fifty-fifty basis to be put through so building of streets can be started early next year.

Agreement and ordinances should be prepared and passed for the building of paved streets from the York bridge by way of York, Chambersburg and Buoyard streets to the borough line at top of Seminary Ridge with a spur on Hanover street and out Springs Avenue and from the borough line on Baltimore street to the Evergreen Cemetery to the borough line on Carlisle street, with short spurs on Steinwehr avenue and Lincoln avenue to the Harrisburg road. These streets would not exceed four miles. If good roads of ordinary width can be built for $16,000 to $20,000, it may be possible that the width of streets could be built at from $25,000 to $30,000 or say from $100,000 to $120,000. If this could be done and the obligation fall upon the town to raise $30,000 to $60,000, it should be entirely practical to raise the money.

The town ordinances for the payment of its share of the building could be provided for under the Act of 1911 by which two-thirds of the cost could be placed upon the abutting property owners. In the four miles there would be, not counting cross streets, 21,120 feet of abutting property on either side or a total of 42,240 feet of abutting property. If the women don't spoil all the good work you did. Greater love no man hath than a man lay down his life for his friends. Then some day a loving Father will place those sons again in your arms as He did once before in the flesh, and for all eternity you'll love and love.

"I love the soldiers, but my love for them doesn't blind me to their faults. Some of the decent fellows positively punch the heads of the garrisons who feel their oats too keenly. Soldiers aren't always saints. Take it from a man, few are. Every man has a beast in his breast, which he's got to keep tied; and the woman who plays with the knot deserves a claw in the face when the beast escapes."

How would the town raise the one-third of the cost, the $16,666 to $20,000? As the town is up against the debt limit it would be difficult to borrow without a vote of the people, but this last contingency should not be necessary.

The town about a year ago provided $7000 of bonds for street purposes on Baltimore and Chambersburg streets and these bonds have never been used and should be available. The balance of the money could be raised by a special tax, and a $100 special tax next year should realize over $10,000 and the streets would be paid in one bite and that would surely be better than no streets at all.

While the town would be busy on the streets the Gettysburg National Park Commission could make no mistake by rebuilding the Emmitsburg road from borough line to West Confederate Avenue. If attention of the Federal authorities were called to the matter no doubt orders and means would be provided for the building of this road this year. This would be a most worthy object to receive instant attention.

The problem of better streets is commended to the town authorities and others with this last thought. Get busy.

GIVE US BETTER STREETS

THE WAY SHOWN TO WORK OUT STREET PROBLEM.

Get Busy So That All Preliminaries Would be Passed and Work Could Go Ahead.

If Gettysburg is in crying need of one thing more than all other improvement it is first class streets. If the town was in some out-of-the-way place where an auto was a curiosity it might drag on and on through a bumpy bumpy existence. As it is one of the big places on the greatest highway of the country, the Lincoln Highway, no further time should be lost to welcome the travelers with the best of streets. The purpose of this article is to show a

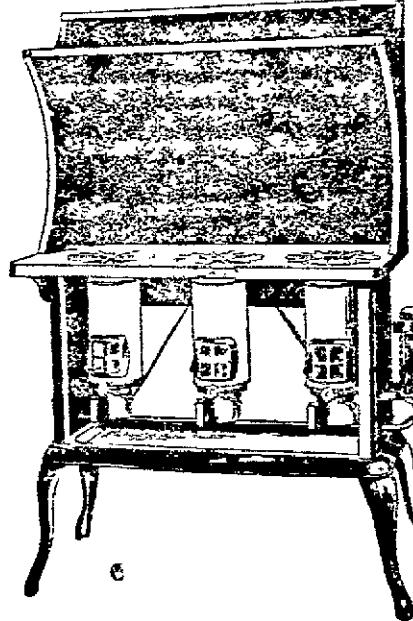

How to Cut down your Fuel Expenses

THINK how much coal you burn in a range when you're not cooking. That's all wasted—money thrown away. And Uncle Sam wants every housewife who can, to save coal. Here is a good way for you to do your part. Use an oil cook stove instead of the fuel-wasting coal range. Then the only time you use fuel is when you are cooking. And that fuel, kerosene, is much more economical than coal.

NEW PERFECTION OIL COOK-STOVES

not only give most satisfactory results—they save steps in house work and do all the cooking just as well (usually better) than a coal range.

Think how easy it is to strike a match and have an intense heat in less than a minute. No coal or wood to carry. No getting down on hands and knees to rake and poke at the fire. Your New Perfection is always ready when you are.

But after you do get your New Perfection be careful what kind of kerosene you use. There is only one kind that will always give most satisfactory results. It is called Atlantic Rayolight Oil to distinguish it from the other kinds. Ask for it by name. Atlantic Rayolight Oil is so highly refined that it burns without smoke, smell or sputter. Gives a more intense heat, too.

Select your New Perfection Oil Cook stove now. There's a dealer near you.

Maybe you were unable to buy a Liberty Bond; you wish at the time that you might. Thrift and War Saving Stamps are little bonds in small denominations; but they count wonderfully. Buy some and become a member of the big stay-at-home army that is helping to win this war.

Grocers Warned Against Fake.

The following warning has been sent out by the Pennsylvania Grocers' Association of Philadelphia:

It is reported to this office that there are inspectors (?) in certain sections of Pennsylvania going around advising the grocers that they are compelled to take out a state license to sell extracts that contain over 1-2 per cent. alcohol, the tax being $25 per year.

We know of no National or Pennsylvania law requiring a license to sell extracts, as put up and sold by the trade for cooking and flavoring purposes.

If these are not fake inspectors, they are evidently ignorant ones, who are wrongfully advising the trade, and your salesmen should so advise their customers.

We have also heard of persons representing themselves as food inspectors attempting to hold up retailers by one scheme or another for profiteering.

Retailers should be advised to demand from all inspectors that call on them, their credentials, or authority before giving information regarding their stock, their cost, and their selling price.

When the War Will End.

When will this war end? That is the voiceless question each true American is asking. Eugene V. Brewster, managing editor of the Motion Picture Magazine and Motion Picture has answered it and says in part, in the September issue: "Every man, woman and child can do something to help win this war. If a man can't think of anything else to do, all he has to do is to ring up some naval or war station and they will tell him lots of things he can do. Every woman can't be a Red Cross nurse, nor knit, but there are dozens of other things she can do. Every man cannot afford to buy more bonds or stamps, but he can help sell them, and there is no limit to his usefulness in other ways. If he cannot make a speech at a recruiting station, or carry on a successful argument with his rich but miserly neighbor, thus inducing him either to go across or come across, he can at least find somebody who is willing to lend his field glasses to the Navy Department. There is a vast, unlimited amount of work to be done, and anybody who wants to can find it. You can easily cut out that automobile trip, or that beach party, or that game of cards, and devote that time to serving your country. You can easily do without that silk shirt or skirt that you were going to buy, and lend the money to the Government. Uncle Sam needs more money than you need more clothes. If you are a business man, perhaps you can spare two hours out of every day to serving your country and your Government. If you are a woman, you surely can. In short, there is no limit to what you can do in this war but simply say, 'Oh, I observe wheatless days, and meatless days.'

and I don't waste any fuel or food, and I bought $5 worth of War Savings Stamps—I've done my bit." You haven't done your bit until you've done your might. When the war will end depends on you. Just imagine fifty million Yankees, with all their marvelous ingenuity, energy, enthusiasm, brains and resources working to whip Germany! If we say it, mean it, do it, in six months the war will be over."

Thousands for Lincoln Highway.

Expenditures amounting to $603,000.00 are being made by the Pennsylvania State Highway Department in Lincoln Highway improvement in 1918. An announcement to this effect has just been made by Mr. Geo. H. Eiles, Acting Chief Engineer.

Maintenance and repair work, including oiling, resurfacing and bridge construction, will absorb $475,000.00 of this amount. Approximately $125,000.00 will be spent upon construction work at various points along the Lincoln Highway in the State. Work is now in progress at many points.

The Lincoln Highway in Pennsylvania is recognized as one of the most important through-connected routes of travel in the United States. This section of the highway carries a tremendous volume of traffic. Over it, in an endless procession, stream countless motor propelled vehicles, many of which are government owned trucks used in transporting war supplies from inland points of manufacture to the Atlantic seaports, others privately owned, carrying freight of all descriptions, as well as rural express and farming commodities, relieving the railroads of a vast volume of traffic.

In addition to this commercial tonnage the Lincoln Highway in Pennsylvania is now carrying a very large number of tourists. As a natural consequence of this constant and exceptional use, prompt measures are necessary to offset the tellingly wear upon the Highway, which, for practically its entire distance, is macadam surfaced.

Every endeavor is being made by the officials of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department to keep the road in condition for travel. Much work is being done in anticipation of the needs of next winter, when a recurrence of railroad congestion may be anticipated, and when the Lincoln Highway may again be called upon.

SAN DIEGO SUNK OFF FIRE ISLAND

Magazine of Former California
Explodes as U-Boat Alarm
Is Given.

SHIP SINKS IN 26 MINUTES.

1,156 Were Aboard Vessel—Hundreds Are Rescued—Quartermaster, Left Aboard, Salutes Comrades as Boats Depart, Then Dies.

New York.—The United States cruiser San Diego was sunk eight miles off Fire Island at 11:10 o'clock in the morning in a battle with a German submarine. The vessel was torpedoed amidships during a fierce fight at close-range, listed and went down within 26 minutes after she was struck.

The number of men killed in the explosion of the magazine and boilers and who went down with the sinking ship was not given out. Thirty-five survivors who landed in lifeboats at Point Woods said that a number were lost, one or two estimating the casualties at 300 or more.

One of the men, a member of the ship's starboard gun crew, declared he and his comrades continued to blaze away at the submarine after the deck was awash. He insisted he saw one of the shells strike forward of the submarine's periscope and she immediately disappeared.

According to the story of the rescued sailors, the attacking submarine disguised her presence by concealing the periscope under a floating barrel.

The lookout noticed that the barrel was moving toward him against the tide, grew suspicious and sounded the alarm.

When the attack came the gun crews fired at the barrel, but it is believed the U boat already had dived. The majority of sailors on the vessel were recent naval recruits. Stories of coolness and heroism were told by the survivors. All stayed by their posts.

Several explosions were reported, the boilers going first and the magazines blowing up a few seconds later. The ship heaved up clear out of the water and then immediately began to settle.

One of the most heroic deaths was that of a quartermaster, who had been ordered to stand on the bridge while the men were being sent to the boats.

Wife Couldn't See the Idea.
That few men know how to make the most of their time was the assertion of Governor Denen. To prove his point the governor told of friends of his who were moving.

The wife conceived the notion that she might save time by wearing on each trip to the new home one of her numerous coats and leaving it. It would be easier than packing them. She was surprised, however, to find, on the occasion of one visit to the future dwelling, her husband removing his clothes.

"Why, John, what on earth are you doing? Are you going to bed?"

"Of course I'm going to bed," said John. "I'm going to get my clothes over here like you are yours. Now, then, you see, I will just go over to the house and get on another suit."

Needless to say his wife soon settled that.

Caddy's Mean Suggestion.
Mrs. R. H. Barlow, the eastern champion, said at the Cape May Golf club, looking toward a certain man:

"Yes, he is a very poor player. Even his caddy, for all his liberal tips, scorns him."

"One afternoon he made a wretched fool and tore up a sod. Lifting this sod in his hand—it was about a foot square—he said to his caddy ruefully:

"What on earth am I to do with this, John?"

"If I was you," the boy answered, "I'd take it up to the hotel to practice on, sir."—New Orleans Daily States.

Ship Shortage Serious.

"Every available ship belonging to the United States and the Allied Governments has been utilized for mon in rushing our troops to France, and keeping them supplied with food and ammunition. Ships that ordinarily would be engaged in the sugar trade have been commandeered for war service. As a result we are short over one-half our normal sugar supply. The whole purpose of the Administration now is to protect the housewife and thus enable her to take care of the fresh fruit and vegetables and by canning and preserving secure a supply for the ensuing year."

"Manufacturers using sugar have had their supplies cut away down; but they use only 22 per cent of the total, the other 80 per cent are the household consumers."

"In view of these facts the man or woman who will hoard sugar now, or refuse to conserve it, is not only a slacker, but an open and devoted aid to the Hun. The people of Pennsylvania who have been asking for an opportunity to do something for our country now have their opportunity. The question is squarely before them:

"Will you get down to a war-time ration, or will you refuse to conserve your supply and thus rob not only the boys in the trenches, the suffering one among our Allies, but permit vast quantities of fruit and vegetables to go to waste which should be saved?"

WAR BULLETINS

New England Rainbow, Pennsylvania regular and negro troops are now at grips with the Germans in the region of Soissons, Chateau-Thierry and Rheims.

British airmen cross Rhine, raid German cities and destroy two Zeppelins.

Up to Saturday noon American troops had captured 17,000 prisoners on the Aisne-Marne front.

The prevailing opinion among competent military observers is that General Foch's offensive will compel the Germans to make a complete readjustment of their whole front south of the Aisne.

French and American troops launched the biggest offensive of the year against the west side of the Aisne-Marne salient, advancing on a 25 mile front to a depth of three to six miles. The Americans in their own sector captured a dozen villages, took 4,000 prisoners and 30 guns. Further north they co-operated with the French, capturing Vierzy, holding Soissons under range of their guns.

The French reached the Mont de Paris, within a mile of Soissons. On the east of Rheims they recaptured Prunay. Victories on the west have greatly relieved the pressure around the cathedral city.

The army supply ship Westover, 4,270 tons, was torpedoed and sunk in the war zone. Ten officers and men of the crew of 92 are missing.

WASHINGTON

Suffrage leaders announce that assurances received from nine United States senators make only three more votes necessary for the passage of the federal amendment.

Military observers in Washington predicted a big haul of German prisoners this week by the advancing Franco-Americans and expressed the belief that the British may strike soon in the north.

Secretary Daniels declares the San Diego was sunk by a German mine, not by a U boat. Forty-seven men are reported missing.

According to information in Washington, final agreement with Japan regarding intervention in Russia has not been reached. The American Red Cross is sending a cargo of supplies into the country for the relief of the population.

A loan of $9,000,000 was made to Belgium by the United States treasury.

The government is to enrol all doctors in the Medical Reserve Corps.

The loss of steamship Columbia on the Illinois river, which resulted in the loss of more than 100 lives, was charged against the captain and the pilot.

Dispatches from Tokio declare that Japan has accepted a proposal for joint intervention in Siberia submitted by Washington and that troops will be sent into the country. The state department withholds comment on the news until it is officially informed of Japan's attitude.

The government is considering a project for taking control of the entire medical profession of the country. The purpose is to provide physicians and surgeons for the army and to equitably distribute the surplus among the various communities of the country.

Contracts for 61 more ships were let by the Shipping Board.

GENERAL

Provost Marshal General Crowder urges all men in class I of the draft to fit themselves for military duties and not to wait until they are called.

A German submarine attacked and sank a tug and four barges off the easternmost point of Cape Cod. There were 41 persons, including three women and five children, on the tug and barges, and a number were wounded, one man severely. Shells were buried a mile inland. Two seaplanes attacked the submarine, which submerged.

John Ward, a negro of Goldsboro, N. C., has 13 of 18 sons in the United States army and 17 daughters doing war work.

United States coal production increased nearly 3,000,000 tons last week over the previous week.

The Delphy, the first destroyer to be launched at the Squantum Works of the Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, was built in three months.

Forty-four mill owners, representing $100,000,000, combined in a campaign to win foreign trade, especially in South America.

John J. O'Leary, on trial charged with aiding his brother Jeremiah to become a fugitive of justice, was discharged by Augustus N. Hand in the Federal District Court, New York, because of the failure of the jury to agree.

Manufacture of motor trucks for direct and indirect war needs is considered essential industry, the War Industries Board announced, and priority on material will be granted.

The cruiser San Diego, with a crew of 1,144, was sunk off Fire Island Light in circumstances not yet determined. The navy department says all aboard apparently were saved. Heavy firing off the coast was believed to indicate she may have been in a battle with submarines. Hundreds of survivors were landed at various points.

President Wilson signed the annual rivers and harbors bill, carrying $23,000,000.

With a view of increasing the production of destroyers for the navy, representatives of private shipyards held a conference in Washington with Secretary Daniels and bureau chiefs.

Two hundred and twenty-eight thousand acres of land in the Dixie National forest were thrown open by order of the President under the home-state laws.

Return of the Nobel peace prize fund donated by Theodore Roosevelt to establish the Foundation for National Peace was voted by members of the Board of Trustees.

German-American War

Closely following confirmation of Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt's death Theodore Roosevelt receives a cablegram announcing that his son, Major Theodore, Jr., is wounded and is now in a Paris hospital.

British troops have joined the Americans, French and Italians on the Rheims side of the salient and got into action on Saturday. In the fighting here the enemy gave ground in Courton woods and the line on both sides of it.

The crisis of the war has been reached, with the German hordes hurled across the Marne river.

The fuel administration issues drastic order for lightless nights four days each week in New York and northeast Atlantic coast states. All other parts of the United States are affected on Monday and Tuesday nights. It is expected the order will save 500,000 tons of coal.

Shipment of supplies to the American fighters is progressing satisfactorily. General March told the committee, and the time made by transports has materially improved during the last few weeks.

American aviators quickly avenge Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt, shooting down 14 enemy planes and locating 25 of their batteries.

SPORTING

A sum of $15,000 was raised for the Red Cross in a professional golf match over the links of the Deal Golf Club of Deal, N. J.

Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, expressed no hope for baseball in view of the ruling of Secretary Baker on the work or fight order.

The Cleveland club announced that it will disband its team.

Secretary of War Newton D. Baker decided that baseball is nonproductive and that players of draft age must go to work under the "work-or-fight" order. John K. Tener, president of the National League, says this ruling means that all professional baseball parks must at once be closed.

Russell Boy paced the second heat in 2:00 1/2, but Single G. won the free-for-all in 2:01 1/2 and 2:01 at Kalama-zoo.

Several Pacific Coast Leaguers probably will be seen in major league uniforms within the next week, now that the big minor league of the west has closed its season.

Sam Jones was with the Boston club for two seasons before he pitched an entire game, but now he is one of the most consistent winners in the major leagues.

George Sisler continues to string along close to Ty Cobb, and the least stamp by the Tiger star will allow the young phenom to go to the front.

FOREIGN

The importation of a large number of American farm tractors in England has increased the cultivated area 2,000,000 acres.

Herbert Hoover, American food administrator, hired a vacant house in London at 9 a. m. and at 11 a. m. had furniture and six stenographers and 14 messenger boys at work.

Rev. Walter Murray of East Orange, N. J., with the Y. M. C. A. in France, was killed while serving soldiers in an army canteen near the Chateau-Thierry sector.

The Austrian ministry has decided to resign.

General Foch's offensive means the turning point of the war. The Americans have set the pace for Europe to follow and have paralyzed the German schemes.

French and Americans have cut the railway and crossed the high road south of Soissons. The Americans killed more than 5,000 Germans.

Prince Lichnowsky, the German ambassador in London at the outbreak of the war, whose disclosures, attributing responsibility to Germany for the bringing on of the conflict, brought him into disfavor at home, has been permanently excluded from membership in the Prussian house of lords.

AMERICANS AND FRENCH VICTORS

Germans Taken Completely by Surprise in Soissons Salient in Greatest Attack Since 1917.

ENEMY'S REAR IN PERIL

Americans Go Over the Top With a Cheer—Play Leapfrog With Ease. One Unit Advancing Under Barrage and Digging In.

On the French Front in France.—The French-American attack along the broad front north of the Marne was an absolute surprise. Many German officers were captured while asleep, and numbers of the men were taken while harvesting rye. The greatest stupefaction was created among all the enemy troops holding the lines at the suddenness of the attack. Some of the prisoners declare they had been told it was impossible for the allies to carry out an operation in the way of an offensive for some time.

Many tanks participated in the attack, having been able to take up their positions during the terrific storm which prevailed. The American troops, co-operating with their French comrades in the assault, did brilliant work.

Around Courchamp, northwest of Chateau-Thierry, the German resistance was more obstinate than on any other part of the Paris line.

In this region the allies captured 18 cannon, numerous machine guns and large numbers of prisoners who have not yet been counted.

The allied troops showed wonderful spirits and advanced singing. A battalion of infantry crossed the river Sambre breast high in water.

The barrage fire preceded the waves of infantry, but one of the heaviest storms of this year drowned the noise of the shells. Most of the Germans had taken shelter in their dugouts from the deluge, and the entente allied troops were among them with grenades and bayonets before they had time to turn around.

The entente allied troops are displaying the utmost fervor in the attack, their desire being to strike a strong blow in return for the recent German assault.

Thousands of prisoners have been captured, including at least 4,000 by the Americans. Twenty villages have been taken.

QUENTIN ROOSEVELT BURIED.

Interred With Honors Where He Fell. Parents to Receive Belongings.

Amsterdam.—The death of Quentin Roosevelt is confirmed by a Wolff Bureau message from the front, according to a Berlin dispatch received here. The message adds that young Roosevelt was buried with military honors by the Germans. The story of the fatal encounter, as told by the Wolff Bureau correspondent, follows:

"On Sunday, July 14, an American squadron of 12 biplane planes was trying to break through the German defense over the Marne. In the violent combat which ensued with seven German machines one American aviator stubbornly made repeated attacks. This culminated in a duel between him and a German non-commissioned officer, who, after a short fight, succeeded in getting good aim at his brave but inexperienced opponent, whose machine fell after a few shots near the village of Chamby, ten kilometers north of the Marne.

"His pocket case showed him to be Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt of the aviation section of the United States army. The personal belongings of the fallen aviator are being carefully kept with a view to sending them later to his relatives. The earthly remains of the brave young aviator were buried with military honors by German aviators near Chamby at the spot where he fell."

PITH OF THE WAR NEWS

Chateau-Thierry is occupied by the French. Franco-American forces break through the enemy defenses north of the town for an advance of more than three miles, the Americans storm Hill No. 193 for an advance of a mile and a quarter, and everywhere else on the 60-mile front from Soissons to Rheims the Germans are being pushed back.

The Germans have withdrawn entirely from the region south of the Marne, the dead and prisoners being the only Huns left below the river.

They are in full retreat, with the allies pursuing.

According to the German prisoners and our own wounded, the Germans are now fighting almost entirely with machine guns and artillery, seldom using their rifles.

Cablegram declaring that Quentin Roosevelt's airplane was not in flames when it fell renews hope of family that he is a prisoner.

War department officials expect the real counter offensive against the Germans to be launched later in the present year. This was disclosed to members of the House Military Committee by General March, chief of staff.

United States coal production increased nearly 3,000,000 tons last week over the previous week.

The Delphy, the first destroyer to be launched at the Squantum Works of the Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, was built in three months.

Forty-four mill owners, representing $100,000,000, combined in a campaign to win foreign trade, especially in South America.

This barn, a new one, was one of the largest, the best built, the most up-to-date barn in Southern Pennsylvania, yet it did not withstand the wind storm, and the loss is thousands of dollars.

The loss is partly covered by cyclone insurance issued at Martin Winter's office.

The cost of this kind of insurance on a farm barn is $3.75 per $1000 insurance for three years (the rate on houses being lower).

The question therefore for every property owner is:

Does it pay to risk the loss of $1000 for three long years to save $3.75?

It requires less than five minutes to destroy a barn, and there are a good many five minute periods in three years.

Three Barns Go Up in Flames.
A series of fires from lightning have occurred in the county this week.

The barn on farm of Samuel Baltzley in Highland township, tenanted by the son-in-law of the owner, Luther Wetzel, was struck by lightning Wednesday evening and totally destroyed with this season's crops stored in barn. Mr. Wetzel was at home and succeeded in saving the stock and a portion of the farming machinery. The barn was insured in the Adams County Mutual Fire Insurance Co. for $900. There was a little insurance on contents but the loss of Messrs. Baltzley and Wetzel will run between $1000 and $2000.

The barn on farm on the Hunterstown road tenanted by George Wampler was struck by lightning on Wednesday and burned to ground with the crops. The horses were saved. One calf and several hundred chickens were consumed. The cattle were in field and Mr. Wampler was waiting until storm was over to bring cattle in. The loss of crops, wheat, hay, etc., is estimated at $1500.

The barn on farm of Albert Wildasin of Berwick township, two miles from Abbottstown, was struck by lightning and completely destroyed Tuesday night. The flames illuminated the heavens for miles around the Pigeon Hills and attracted many people. The season's crops of hay, timothy seed, rye and oats, 500 bushels of old corn and farming implements were destroyed. All live stock were saved but five calves. The barn was large and well constructed. The loss is said to be covered by insurance.

New Town Father.

Edward Oyler, of Chambersburg street was elected a member of the Town Council from Second Ward in place of Martin Winter, deceased, at the meeting of the Council last Friday evening.

Councilman Koch was made chairman of the Highway Committee and Edward Oyler took Mr. Winter's place on that committee. Mr. Oyler succeeds Mr. Koch as chairman of Sewer Committee. Mr. Koch succeeds Mr. Winter on Ordinance Committee and Mr. Oyler goes on Market Committee in place of Mr. Winter.

Edward Newman's salary as Street Supervisor was increased from $60 to $65 per month of August, September and October.

The Board of Health and State Department of Health have appointed David M. Crist as secretary and inspector in the Gettysburg five mile zone. His salary will be $80 a month. Mr. Crist has been residing south of town for several years and has been teaching school. Chas. S. Butt, Esq., was elected attorney of the new health board.

Red Cross Festival Raises $375.

When Arendtsville gets out for the Red Cross, just look out, for it is going to be a record accomplishment. The Arendtsville branch of the Red Cross has been sending in bundles of supplies, sweaters and knit goods and latterly hospital supplies. Only this week seven bundles of T bandages and a supply of knitted goods were turned in to the Gettysburg work room to be packed. The work done and need of materials was the occasion for holding of a Red Cross festival in Arendtsville on July 13th. Notwithstanding the threatening storm the people of that town and surrounding section turned out for the chicken soup supper and other good eats. Then there was lots of fun over the auction of a pig. It changed hands about 26 times and over $80 was realized from the pig and when the festival closed and bills were paid the Arendtsville Red Cross found its treasury richer by $375, surely a record achievement and for the best of causes.

The Latimore branch sent in to the local room this week a box of special orders for the camp consisting of a number of suits of pajamas and several packages of pillow cases.

The McKnightstown branch of the Gettysburg Red Cross Chapter was organized this week at the home of Mrs. Riddlemoser. Miss Cora Mickley was elected Chairman and Miss Mary Mickley, secretary and treasurer. They expect to open a work room for that branch in the very near future.

In the past two weeks over eight thousand surgical dressings and bandages have been sent to the supply room at the Camp Colt hospital. Seven thousand of these dressings were made at Gettysburg and twelve hundred came from the New Oxford work room.

Center Square Improvements.

The finishing touches are being given to the ornamental circle in the Public Square and a very good idea can be had of what the completed work will look like. The concrete work is finished and the work of filling the four quarters is going forward and will be sodded when properly filled. The raised circle is going to make a most convenient resting place and the crossing of the Square will be a step up and a step down. In this age of autos it is absolutely necessary to arrange a Square so that the traffic will be to the right and the ornamental circle will be quite a relief to the unsightly hub that has been maintained. The central lamp post has been placed and is of the five lamp type used for street lighting purposes. The eight single lamp posts are on their way and will be erected as soon as received. It will take but a short time to make the connections for the electric light and with the water for the fountains.

Allen B. Plank has given his personal supervision to the work for the past three or four weeks as his contribution to a more beautiful Square.

Dougherty & Hartley have the subscription list open for voluntary contributions and will solicit the same.

Miss Annie W. Holmer, Mrs. Elsie Sigmund, Edwards and Mrs. D. P. McPherson to the Committee on Ornamentation of the ground in the four corners of the circle and they will have the use of a fund given by a Missie [unclear] over several years ago in the amount of $1,000.

Hon. Andrew R. Brodbeck
Candidate for CongressExtract From Mr. Root's Address at the Annual Meeting of the National Security League
Held May 8th, 1918.

"We are going to elect a Congress this coming fall. There is one great single predominant qualification for an election to that Congress, and that is a loyal heart. (Applause).

"I don't care whether a man is a Democrat or a Republican or a Progressive or a Socialist or a Prohibitionist, or whatnot, he must have a loyal heart, or it is treason to send him to Congress. (Applause). There are probably from twenty to thirty Congressional districts in this country where there is a loyal majority but where there is so large a disloyal minority that a division of the loyal majority may let a German in. In every one of those districts, Democrats and Republicans and all loyal men should get together, and agree upon the loyal man of one party or the other who is the surest to carry the district, and all unite on him without regard to party. (Applause).

"Any man who would not accept the idea and follow it, I would want to live a hundred years to vote and work against. (Applause). Human nature has not changed. There are going to be parties, going to be politics hereafter; but now they are subordinate, they are unimportant. The one thing only is to win the war, and put men in Congress who will represent the driving power of the American people; the driving power that is behind Congress, that is behind the Administration, and that, God grant, may make itself felt behind the men who are putting over contracts and lingering on the road to victory. (Applause).

"The great thing is to make Germany feel that the hundred millions of America are going, as one man, to beat them (applause), to make every American feel that all the rest of the hundred millions are with him in his mightiest efforts to beat the German. (Applause)."

Reflect. Apply the words of this great American to the situation in this Congressional District. The man to elect without regard to party is the man who has been representing the driving power of the American people.—Brodbeck Irishtown Flag Raising.

Irishtown on Tuesday evening had a flag raising specially for that community. The town of between 300 and 400 souls has nine boys in the Army and Navy, four of them now in France. These four are Guy Lawrence, Cornelius Henler, Byron Alwine and Bernard Jenkins. There are four others in cantonments preparing to go. Francis Marshall, Albert Shaffer, Harry Kuritz and Claude Clink. The boy in the Navy is William McElroy. In honor of these boys the flag raising took place.

Funds were collected only in Irishtown for the purpose. The pole is perhaps the most unique in the community. It was a poplar tree standing at corner of roads at the J. M. Martin store. The tree was trimmed of all branches, cut off at a height of 20 feet, capped and painted white and from this pole the Stars and Stripes were raised and the service flag with nine stars.

preceding the flag raising there was a procession headed by the New Oxford Drum Corps and Sons of Veterans and followed by school children, six young ladies carrying the flag and four boys carrying the service flag. After the raising there were speeches and singing.

A country worth fighting for is a country worth saving for. Invest your savings in War Savings Stamps.

One Passenger, One Freight Depot.

Under the government management the railroad facilities in Gettysburg will be consolidated to a decided advantage of the public. The Reading passenger depot will be used for all passenger service and all freight will be handled from the Western Maryland freight station. It is expected that the Reading freight station and W. M. passenger depot will be abandoned.

Beginning August first all freight charges will be placed on one of three basis as follows:

Cash basis: This requires payment of "prepaid" charges to the forwarding agent at the time freight is received for shipment, and payment of "collect" charges to the destination agent at the time the freight is delivered.

One Day Basis: Bills to be presented or mailed by the forwarding agent on the day "prepaid" freight is received for shipment and by destination agent on the day "collect" freight is delivered. Payments must be made or check mailed not later than the following day.

Credit Basis: Bills to be presented or mailed by forwarding agent on day "prepaid" freight is received for shipment and by destination agent on day "collect" freight is delivered. Payment must be made or check mailed not later than third following day. Shippers and consignees desiring the advantages of this basis will be required to furnish a bond.

The Western Union Telegraph Co. office is to be moved from the present location to the room in First National Bank Building recently occupied by the Quartermaster Corps under Capt. F. B. Moore. This change will not take place for several weeks.

Wilson vs. Kaiser.

Prof. Spenser Wilkinson, of Oxford University, England, in a recent address in London, on "The Idea of This War," declared:

"The object of the war is to carry the spirit of President Wilson into the hearts and minds of the people of Germany."

The German Emperor and President Wilson are each of them at the head of a great nation, and each of them wields in that nation supreme authority.

"But the two men stand for two antagonistic systems. The German Emperor is never tired of proclaiming that he has received a special commission from God Almighty to educate and instruct the German people and other peoples, after his armies shall have crushed them.

"Mr. Wilson, on the other hand, was chosen by the people of the United States to preside over their government. He has no commission to educate them. Their idea is to be allowed to grow and to develop their powers by doing their work. Here is Mr. Wilson's conception of his mission:

"I feel nothing so much as the intensity of the common man. I can pick out in every audience the men who are at ease in their fortunes. But there are in every crowd other men who are listening to hear somebody speak the thing that is stirring in their hearts and minds. It makes a man's heart ache to think that he cannot be sure he is doing it for them to wonder whether they are longing for something he does not understand. He prays God that something will bring into his conscience what is in theirs, so that the whole nation may feel at last released from its dumbness, feel at last that there is no visible force holding it back from its goal, feel at last there is hope and confidence and that the road may be trodden as if they were brothers, shoulder to shoulder, not asking each other anything about differences of class, not contesting for any selfish advance, but united in the common enterprise."

Maupassant's Friend.
Who is—and was—the unknown friend of the gifted De Maupassant?

She has just confided to a French review some prudent pages touching upon her relations with him. Le Cri de Paris says "the unknown" is a Slav, essentially French in culture, a queen in the society of Paris and of St. Petersburg. She was the chosen confidant of his heart and of his genius.

Among her fervent admirers was a prince, the younger son to a great name. He paid assiduous court to her and finally asked her hand in marriage. But "the unknown" renounced the prince to remain faithful to her great romancer. She was, it is said, the inspirer of his romance "Notre Coeur," and he found in her the heroine of this masterpiece. And now, "the unknown" will turn her recollections into color by her book "Guy de Maupassant Intime," which will doubtless be sufficiently highly flavored to meet the Parisian taste.

ARENDSVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar T. Slaybaugh, Elmira E. Slaybaugh, Mabel Slaybaugh, J. F. Slaybaugh, spent last Saturday with relatives in Chambersburg.

Mrs. Mary Reed and daughter Emma spent last week with relatives in Waynesboro.

Mrs. John F. Lupp and little daughter Margaret, are visiting friends in Harrisburg.

Carmon Crum, who has employment in Pittsburgh, is spending a few days here in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Crum, his parents.

Gilbert Yeatts Bell, of Gettysburg, was a visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Mark, over last Sunday.

Miss Martha K. Bell, of Gettysburg is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Mark.

Harry Shuler exhibited 1-2 dozen new potatoes in the post office their combined weight being 4 1-2 lbs.

The two Sunday Schools of this place will hold their union picnic August 14th next, in Heiges' Grove near town. Everybody welcome.

J. Dorsey Lower, who spent the last eight months in Wharton, N. J., has returned home.

Prof. Roy D. Knouse, of Littlestown, is a guest among relatives here.

Mrs. Cameron Plank and her little daughter Etta May, of Pittsburgh, are visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Rev. Wilmer Hartman, of Middletown, Md., was a guest in the homes of Hiram C. Lady and Mrs. Reuben Minter. Her husband, Rev. Hartman, died five months ago and he was buried here.

At 2 o'clock Wednesday morning we had a heavy thunder storm and at 9 in the evening another, and the rain was much needed. During the latter lightning struck the apple packing and tool house in Asper's apple orchard near this place and burned it.

Miss Virgie Diehl of New Oxford, is the guest in the home of her aunt, Mrs. Lizzie J. Raffensperger.

Daniel Skelly Joins Marines.

Daniel A. Skelly, Jr., who has been one of the associate editors on the staff of the "Elizabeth Journal" Elizabeth, N. J., for the past year, has enlisted in the United States Marine Corps and has been assigned for training to Paris Island, South Carolina.

Mr. Skelly spent several days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Skelly, Chambersburg, reporting for duty on Monday.

Baldness
Conquered*RECIPE MAILED FREE

A veteran business man, who was almost completely bald and had tried numerous tonics, lotions, shampoos, etc., without benefit, came across, while on a journey, an Indians' recipe by which he grew a complete crop of healthy, luxuriant hair that he now possesses. Others—men and women—have reported remarkable hair growth by the same method. Whoever wishes the recipe may obtain it free by writing to John Hart Brittain, B.A.-222, Station F, New York, N. Y. Or obtain a box of the ointment, Kotsalko, made according to the perfected recipe, at the drug store, ready for use.

Indian's Secret of Hair Growth

In a vast number of cases, when hair falls out, the roots are not dead, but remain embedded in the scalp alive, like seeds or bulbs, needing only "fertilizer." The usual alkaline shampoos, alcoholized hair tonics, etc., are of no avail in such cases. The Indians' ointment nourishes the hair and stimulates the growth.

Kotsalko fertilizes the scalp and induces hair growth in every case possible; wonderful results reported. For men's, women's and children's hair. If you are bald, or losing hair, or have dandruff, you should try Kotsalko. It is a pleasure to observe the starting of new hair and its steady increase until a prolific growth covers thin hair or baldness. Cut out this notice, show to others who want beautiful hair. The recipe is free. This is genuine.

PROS-TONE"THE UTAH SECRET"

One of those "once-in-a-lifetime" discoveries that have come down to a waiting world as stated methods—the milestones which mark the world's enlightened progress. PROS-TONE is the life monument of achievement to the credit of a physician who prescribed the formula for diseases of a nervous origin and for kidney and bladder troubles for thirty years in private practice. His first need it to relieve kidney and bladder diseases which afflicted the engineers and other employees of one of the greatest railroads in the country which he was the physician. His great success led to its extension for nervous disorders by the patients of the Kealy Institute of Salt Lake, Utah.

Results were so wonderfully beneficial, the good doctor finally decided his duty toward mankind was to lay it's marvelous and PECULIARLY SPECIALIZED BENEFITS before the public—to acquaint weak, suffering, nervous, debilitated people with the secret of PROS-TONE. He could NOT DO IT. He was fully satisfied in his decision to disclose his great secret of renewed health and vitality by two most influential members of the medical fraternity who had used the formula of PROS-TONE in their private practice and were astounded by the wonderful results obtained. One was the Dean of a western Medical College and the other a member of the faculty of another college. The result of their combined experience and judgement is the improved formula under which PROS-TONE is now made.

If you cannot get PROS-TONE at your druggist's—in order that we may be able to acquaint you more fully as to what it WILL REALLY ACCOMPLISH—

We will mail you FREE on receipt of 10 cents postage or coin and this coupon, enough TRIAL PROS-TONE for three days trial to the druggist. board in Division 9 of the District of Columbia. He had been placed in Class 4 previous to the "work-or-fight" order. The local board ordered him to appear to show cause why he should not be reclassified and placed in Class 1 because of the nature of his occupation. His deferred classification had been granted because of the dependency of his wife and child.

Ainsmith and representatives of organized baseball appeared to present arguments against the reclassification, but the board held that the occupation of a baseball player is nonproductive in the sense of the regulations and ordered that Ainsmith's deferred classification be revoked. The case was appealed to the district board for the District of Columbia, which sustained the local board, and was then appealed to the secretary of war.

The section of the regulations bearing on the case of ball players is:

"Persons, including ushers and other attendants, engaged and occupied in and in connection with games, sports and amusements," etc.

The secretary of war says:

"Obviously baseball players are persons occupied in a sport, so that the ruling of the local and district boards must be sustained as plainly correct."

The New York Giants will suffer least of any major leagues by the enforcement of the "work-or-fight" order. Only 11 men whose names are now on the roster are within the draft age and therefore are affected by the ruling of Secretary Baker.

BASEBALL MAY END

Players of Draft Age Must Get Work in War Industries.

Decision in Case of Ainsmith Regarded as End of Organized Baseball During War.

Do you know that you folks at home as well as the brave boys "over there" are menaced by "poison gas"—the insidious kind that steals away health and the joy of living, in the perpetually recurring disturbances resulting from a gassy, sour stomach.

1200 New York physicians regularly prescribe JOHN'S DIGESTIVE TABLETS as the most perfect form of relief known for these stomach disorders. Ball players are hit by the "work-or-fight" order. They must shift into essential industries or lose such deferred classifications in the draft as they have received through dependences and other reasons.

WASHINGTON.—Secretary Baker said official dispatches indicated the fall of Soissons and the capture of 30,000 prisoners. General March revealed the fact that 90,000 troops were landed in Europe last week and that the Rainbow and New England divisions were fighting as units.

LONDON.—The Cunard steamship Carpathia, famous as the Titanic rescue vessel, was sunk by a German submarine, which sent three torpedoes crashing into her. All passengers were saved, but five of the crew were killed. A British troop vessel bound for Australia was torpedoed.

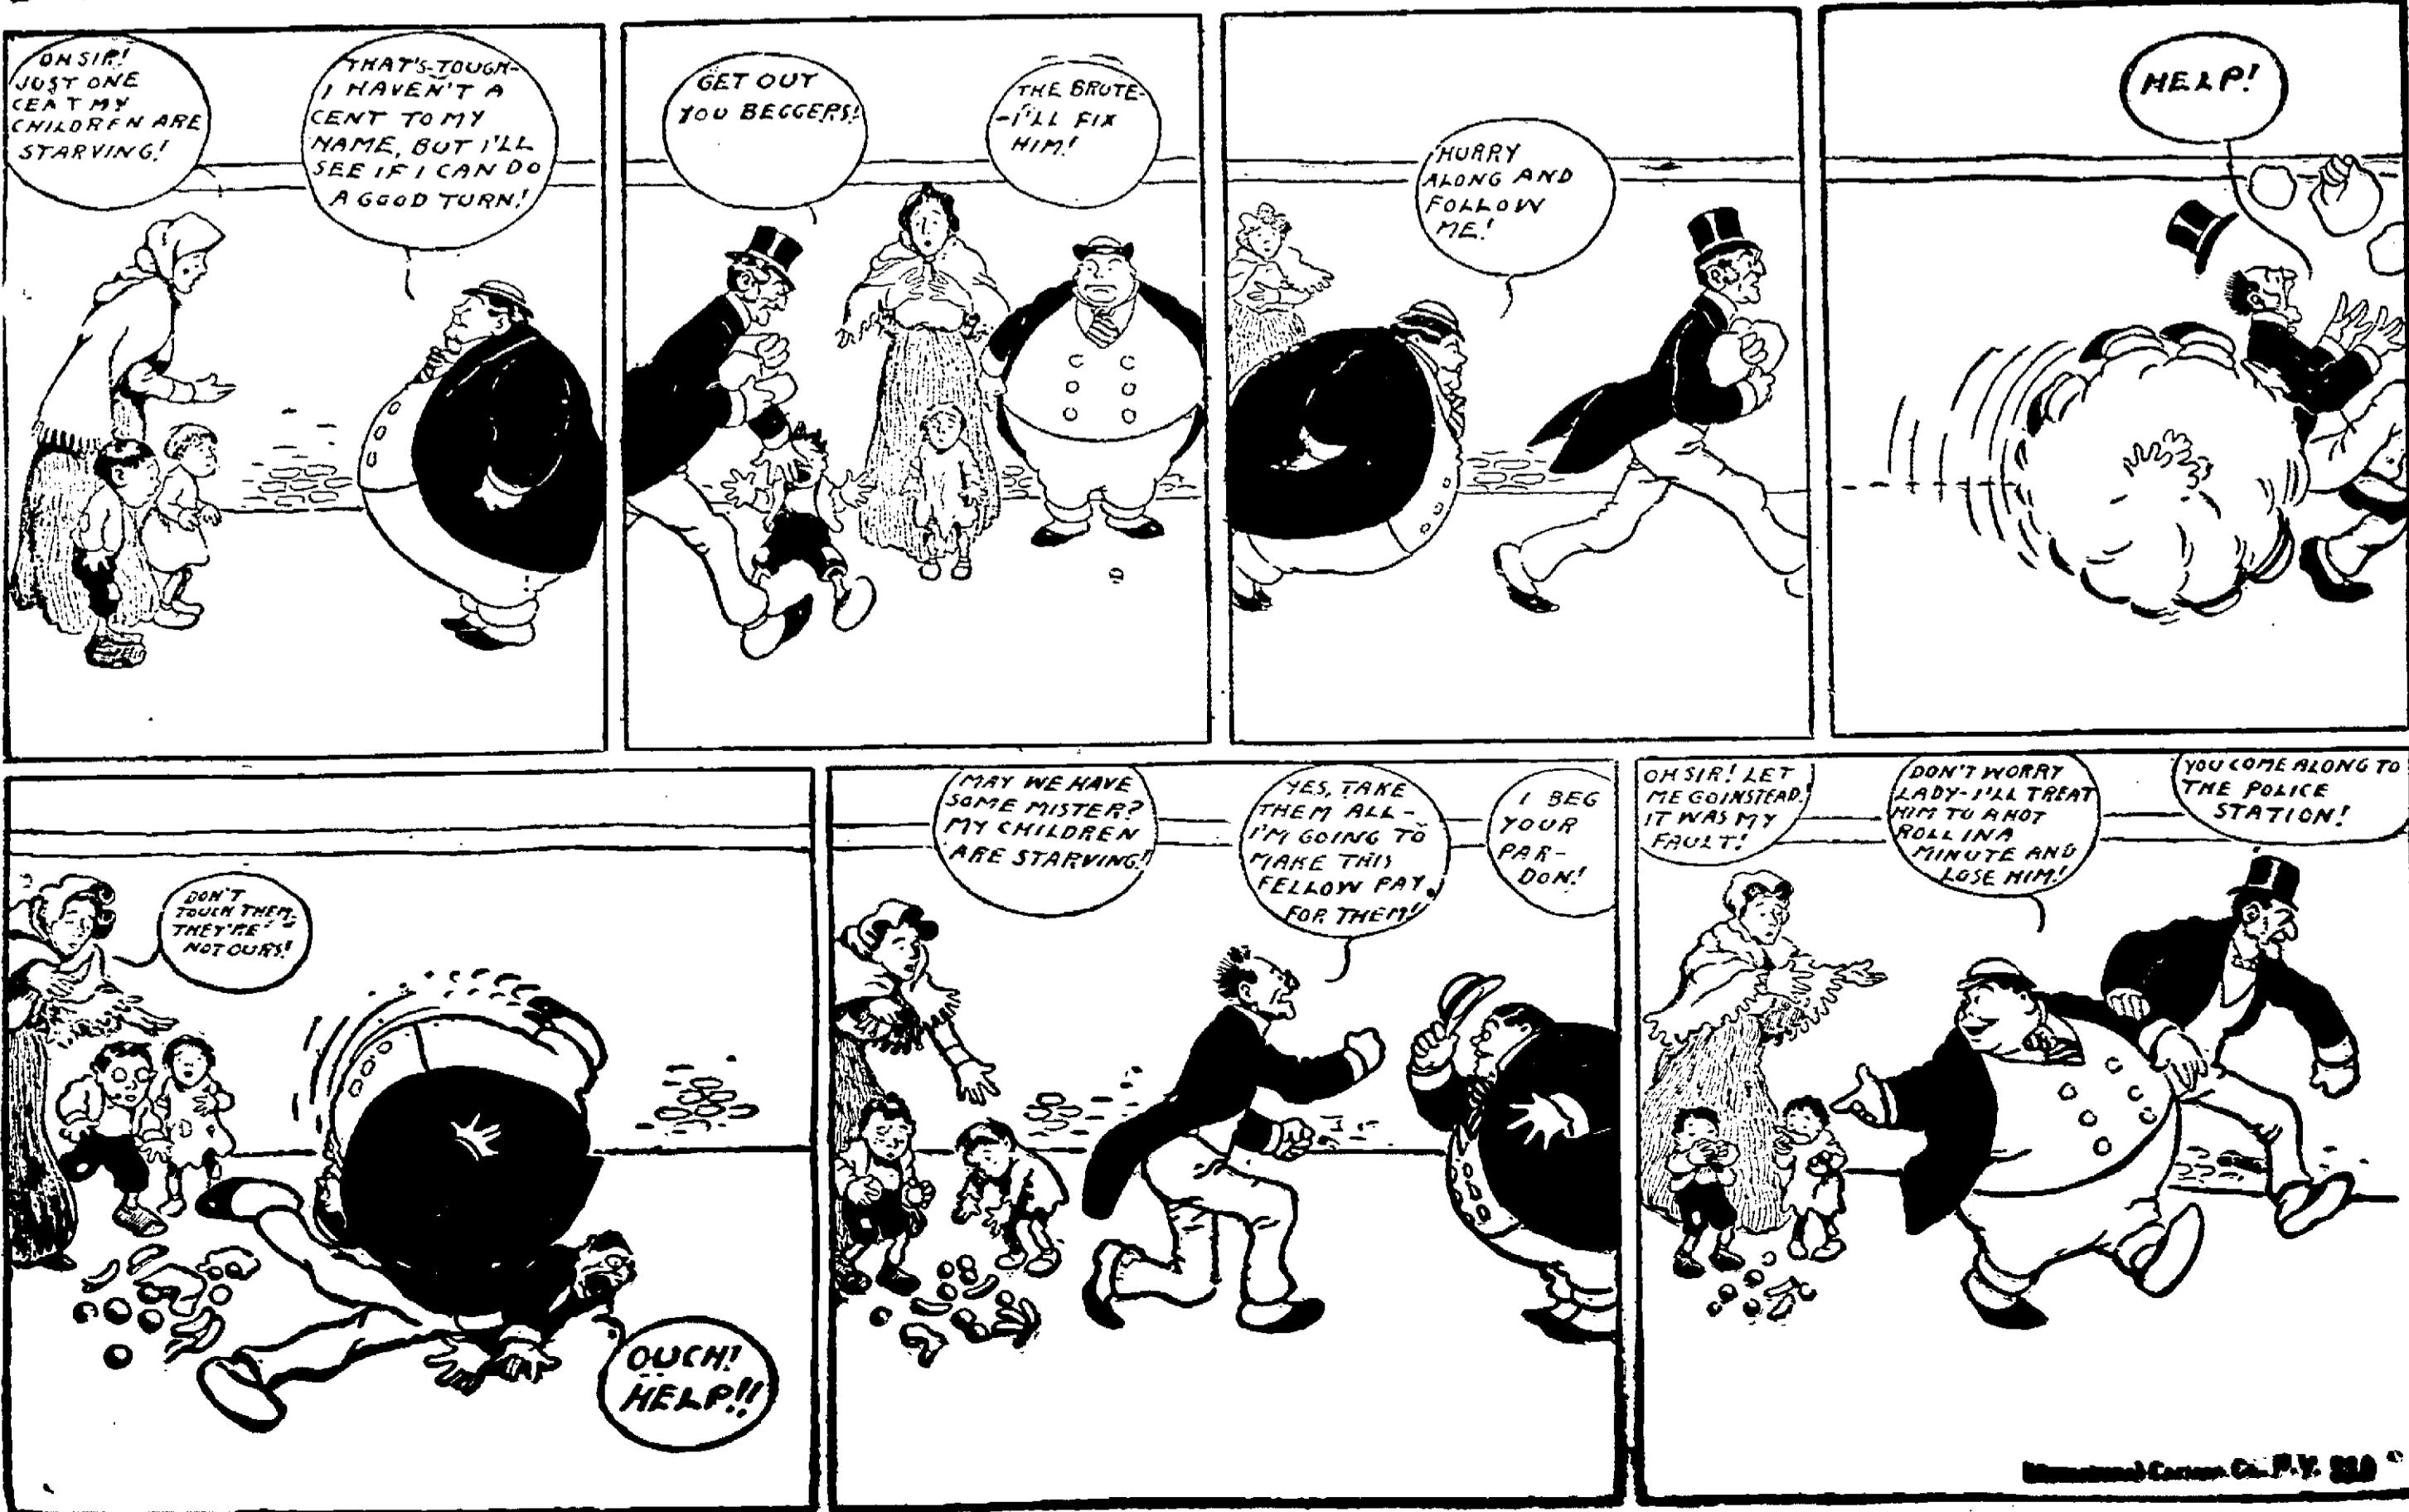

The Ainsmith case went up to the secretary on appeal from the local

Washington.—Baseball is a nonproductive and nonessential industry. Ball players are hit by the "work-or-fight" order. They must shift into essential industries or lose such deferred classifications in the draft as they have received through dependences and other reasons.

The decision is regarded in baseball circles as tantamount to the disbandment of organized baseball for the duration of the war. While many players are beyond the draft age, it is said there are not enough to furnish the brand of baseball that the major league patrons demand.

Get the TABLETS at your drug store. They insure quick, lasting relief by taking three to six dissolved in a glass of water or chewed before swallowing. Have JOHN'S DIGESTIVE TABLETS handy in the dining room for chronic cases of gastric or intestinal indigestion—as one or two TABLETS should be taken before each meal.

MISTER ROLLY-POLLY, THE MAN WHO TUMBLE'S INTO THINGS

"The Calf"

By Jessie M. Robinson

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure News Syndicate.)

Bob Marston verily haunted the library rooms of the state university. Not that he was avid for learning. The little amber-haired lady seated at the librarian's desk was the magnet which drew him. Notwithstanding that Clara Brownlee was a college graduate, that she was being wooed by Professor Nicholls, A. B., and that Bob felt that she was as far above him as the Goddess Minerva was to the plebeian Greek, Bob still aspired to become her chosen one. Bob was a hero on the gridiron, but two years plodding at the university had failed to bring out any great mental brilliancy. He was well aware that on the campus he had been dubbed "The Calf" because of his mooning proclivities, but he was too deeply in love to mind ridicule.

This morning Clara's brown eyes met his blue ones inquiringly, and she smiled as the tall, gangling youth, with his shock of black hair, came toward her desk.

"Miss Brownlee, I should like to find something about the Gastropoda," he said bravely, while consulting his notebook.

"You asked that yesterday—don't you remember? It is in Volume II, page 596, third shelf, Encyclopedia Britannica," was the curt response of his ladylove.

Bob sheepishly stumbled over toward the shelves. He had looked up

"Oh, I see; you're engaged," commented Bob, bitterly rude.

Clara tightened her lips, and the silence that fell about them was appalling, especially to Bob, who liked vivacity and conversation. She was nothing but a flirt after all, but he could not help loving her. He formed a wild scheme. He would elope with the lady.

"Bah, Bob Marston, you're the silly calf they call you on the campus," he finally concluded. "If Clara is unwilling, what's the use? I suppose the old highbrow is more to her taste."

"We're going to enjoy the afternoon together, anyhow," he said aloud, with little spirit, and inwardly resolved to travel as many miles as he dared.

"Of course we are, you foolish boy. I am so glad that you are going into business, Bob," said she, resuming the former conversation. "I am sure you will be a success."

Bob shut his lips together and gazed glaring ahead.

"Where are we going?" asked Clara.

"To the end of the world, I hope," he replied glumly.

Bob turned the machine off the boulevard into a forest road overhanging with immense pines, and for miles they sped through the sweet, resinous air.

At last Bob spoke. "My Aunt Mary lives down this road. It can't be far from here. Shall we stop and see her? She may have some strawberries and cream for us."

"I'm sure I should be delighted," responded Clara, in a tone which indicated that any digression would be a relief.

"By the way, my aunt married a college professor. He is retired now on account of poor eyesight."

It seemed to Bob as they stopped at his aunt's gate that her modest home among the pines was more of a little paradise than he had ever known it to be before, and he hoped it might not seem so to Clara. But undoubtedly it did, as her exclamations of delight at frequent intervals testified.

Clara went to see his aunt's garden of wild flowers, successfully transplanted from the woods, while Bob stayed in the cool, old-fashioned parlor with the half-blind professor.

"Wouldn't you like to live in the city?" Bob heard her ask his aunt as she appeared in the doorway.

"Oh, no, my dear," replied Aunt Mary. "It is so much lovelier and more quiet out here, and we are not afraid with Bruno," affectionately patting a large collie. "Besides, we have close neighbors, and they are always willing to help."

"Bring Miss Brownlee again," urged his aunt, as she climbed into the auto. ready to depart.

"Yes, I should love to come," said Clara, as Bob sulkily forbore to reply.

"How happy they seem!" sighed Clara, as they drove down the road.

"Oh, of course, life with a professor is always happy," sneered Bob, sorry he had shown his aunt's idyllic existence and thus enhanced his rival's cause.

"Oh, why do you—"

But Clara never finished her sentence, for as they made a sharp turn a long-legged calf, standing awkwardly in the middle of the road, loomed upon their startled sight. The frightened animal was only a few feet away, and Bob tried in vain to stop the machine. He turned sharply to the left, and the next instant the great car swerved on its side into the ditch, while the calf went bawling off into the woods. Clara, half laughing and half crying, clung frantically to Bob, but to their mutual astonishment they had both remained in their seats.

"My darling, are you hurt?" futilely questioned Bob, who was well aware of those soft arms clinging about his neck.

"No, dear, are you?" half echoed Clara.

The "dear" did not escape Bob, and he proceeded to shower the little upturned face with kisses. He was in heaven for a few moments, and then woke up.

"I forgot. Can you forgive me? You are engaged—"

"To Bob Marston," completed Clara. "Bless the calf—I mean the four-legged one!" ejaculated Bob.

And Clara Brownlee was too late to attend the lecture on "Ethical Culture" that evening.

An Old Song.

"The Bostonians" are remembered and will long be remembered from one end of the country to the other for many pleasant things, but more particularly for Henry Clay Barnard's characterization of the sheriff of Nottingham, and for Jessie Parrott Davis' rendering "Oh, Precious Me." That song was, to the author's best belief, John McCormack's "I Wish You Could See Me" has been to the times of just past.

"Oh, Precious, Me! For a while I've been layed up and disabled, as well as stuck in every dark and corner of the land, but I never Jessie Parrott Davis' song, no matter what she brought it in, she would not be even a mile off, and sing that song—Oh, Precious, Me!—"

His Vision Probably All Right.

A Unit. S. S. recruiting officer whose jurisdiction extended over a large part of Tennessee, told of a man who had such poor eyesight, and he was unable to get the usual eye-sight test with "A" letters. At last he was asked if he had ever hunted, and what kind of gun he had used. He replied that he had often hunted squirrels with a rifle, and someone added that he seldom missed a shot. According to the officer reported on the man as follows: "In effort to determine applicant's acuteness of vision, as he does not know his letters, but he can kill squirrels with a rifle." The man was accepted.

"Now the professor is mad, and I'm glad," clucked Clara. Evidently she considered this ride but a schoolboy and schoolgirl escapade.

"What's your going with me today got to do with Professor Nicholls?" queried Bob, visibly ruffled.

"No more than that he thinks I should not be riding with anyone but him, I suppose."

SUGAR HOARDERS AIDES OF KAISER, SAYS MR. HEINZ

Hot Shot For Slackers Who Seek to Protect Themselves When Famine Menaces.

SUGAR CRISIS IS REACHED

We Must Cut to One-half of Normal Use if Actual Exhaustion of Stock is to Be Avoided.

The sugar hoarder in the private family is not only a slacker, but is actually helping the kaiser to win the war," is the emphatic declaration of Howard Heinz, Federal Food Administrator for Pennsylvania.

"Everyone knows there is a shortage of sugar," he said, "yet the selfish and thoughtless are shopping around, trying to avoid the Food Administration's regulations and advice. No red-blooded American, knowing the facts, can be guilty of going contrary to Mr. Hoover's voluntary rationing system."

"Public opinion must stop laxness on the part of anyone. Sugar is an important food; it is essential to health, but if each individual in this country thinks that their little bit of saving amounts to nothing, and continues to use it at normal rate, this country will have a sugar famine inside of sixty days."

The idea of rationing the chewing gum trade, the confectioner, the soft-drink manufacturer, and all others who have been given only a small percentage of their present rate of consumption, will not make up the great deficit that we are facing. It will take the savings of every individual family to the amount of 50 per cent of their normal consumption.

"Hotels and restaurants are limited to three pounds per person for every ninety meals served, which is a little more than one-half ounce per meal per person. If they exceed this ration they will soon be without sugar.

COUNTRY HAS HAD WARNING.

"Every effort has been made by Mr. Hoover in Washington, and the Pennsylvania Administration, for weeks past, by means of newspaper warnings and circulars to the trade, to call the attention of the public to the seriousness of the situation. The recent ruling regarding sugar certificates was one of the first drastic results of the shortage. It now seems apparent that certificates alone will not produce the full results.

"The situation is squarely up to the consumer. Unless every housewife conserves her sugar supply and adheres rigidly to the rule of not more than 3 pounds per person per month, there will not be enough sugar to meet the demands for cooking and preserving when the height of the season is reached. In other words, unless the people bring themselves in war-time ration during July, there will be no sugar for us in August."

"More than this not only must we, for the sake of our national health and safety, take care of the fruits and vegetables this summer for the raising of our supply, but we must save some for our boys in the trenches, as far as possible, to cut out the steady supply of oranges."

"There are substitutes for bread, for beef, and for other necessities, but there are no substitutes for sugar."

HIS CAR.
"And what is that little building over there?" asked the visitor to Tompy's place.

"That? Oh, my wife calls that the garage," said Tompy.

"Oh—what is your car?" asked the visitor.

"Oh, that's a mirage," said Tompy.—Harper's Weekly.
